PORT DOUGLAS AUSTRALIA

WETLANDS

The Wetlands depicts the amazing diversity of our natural wetlands that are important fringing areas and provides a link to many ecosystems. An array of wading birds can be viewed foraging for fish in waterways beneath the boardwalks.

A host of macropods and a multitude of wetland bird species can also be found here. Make your way to see an Australian icon - The Koala.

RAINFOREST

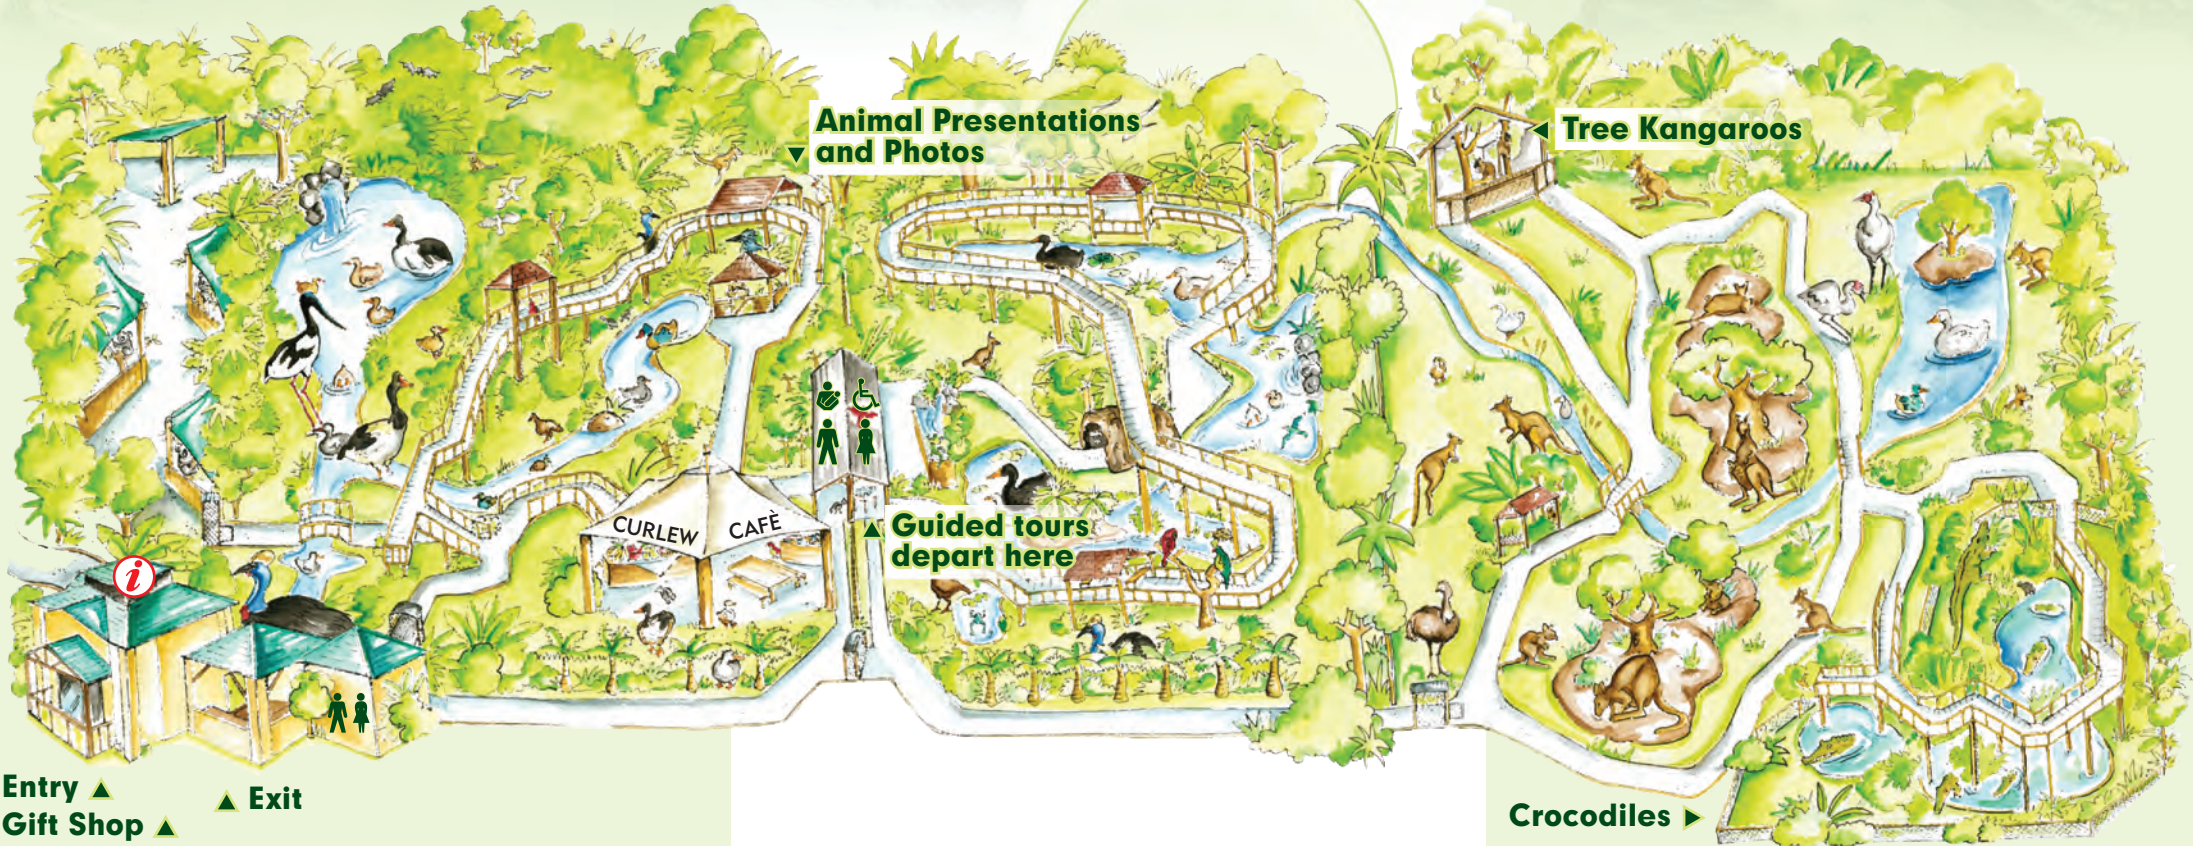

Representing the Wet Tropics rainforest environments where native species such as the Southern Cassowary, Boyd's Forest Dragon and colourful Eclectus parrots can be viewed in a natural setting. Boardwalks meander along the forest floor to the rainforest canopy.

GRASSLANDS

This open-air exhibit portrays both inland and coastal plains. Here you can interact with and hand-feed kangaroos and wallabies. A host of waterfowl and native birdlife use the billabong as a refuge for breeding.

Boardwalks overlook lagoons where both the Estuarine and Freshwater crocodiles lurk beneath water or bask on the sunlit banks.

Guided Tours

Enhance your experience by joining a free guided tour. Informative guided tours are available where experienced guides introduce visitors to some of the amazing wildlife for the Wet Tropics region.

Gift Shop

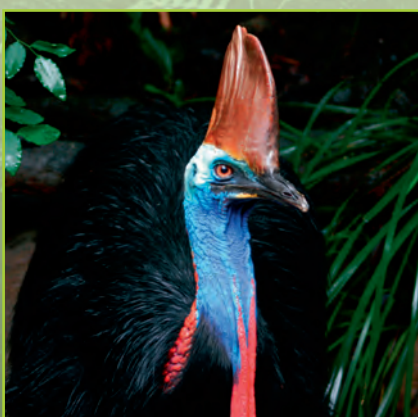

Our well stocked gift shop offers a vast range of quality Australian and locally made products including reference and children's books, toys, souvenirs, clothing and educational products.

Curlew Café & Bar

Enjoy snacks and ice creams. A licensed bar is available.

The Southern Cassowary

The Southern Cassowary is classed as endangered & is found in the Wet Tropics area of Tropical North Queensland. Cassowaries are termed a 'keystone' species. This means that the loss of the Cassowary could lead to long term changes in plant communities and may eventually lead to the loss of plant species.

Animal Presentations and Photos

Meet our wildlife presenter and learn fascinating facts about crocodiles, pythons and koalas.

Souvenir photos holding these amazing animals are available at additional cost.

Queensland's Largest Range of Macropods

From the statuesque Eastern Grey Kangaroo to the petite Parma Wallaby. The Rainforest Habitat is home to Queensland's largest range of kangaroos and wallabies, with the largest captive population of Northern Naitail Wallabies in Australia.

The Lumholtz's Tree Kangaroo

One of only two species found in Australia, Lumholtz's Tree Kangaroos are native to Tropical North Queensland, residing in high elevation rainforest of the Wet Tropics region.

The Rainforest Habitat is one of only two wildlife parks in the world to house this rare species and runs a successful breeding program within the colony.

Wildlife Rescue

The Rainforest Habitat Wildlife Sanctuary is committed to the conservation of native species via its Wildlife Rescue program.

Modern facilities and experienced staff ensure that injured, orphaned or sick animals are looked after in a professional and caring manner.
